PROFILE

Freelance full stack developer. I take a site the whole way — front end, database, deployment — and hand back something that works, not a design that still needs building. Three client sites shipped this year, including a parts catalogue that generates roughly 3,060 accurate SKUs from fitment rules. React, Next.js, Node, Express, MongoDB and MySQL.

FREELANCE PROJECTS

EMAS Organic
2026

Wellness Storefront & Dealer Portal

One site serving two audiences — retail shoppers and a dealer network — with the routes split so neither buries the other. Deployed to GitHub Pages at no hosting cost to the client.

SDS Technologies
2026

IT Services & Training Institute

Restructured the site around three visitor intents — hire, learn, apply — each with its own track instead of one shared form. Real-time 3D hero, and WhatsApp pinned to every screen.

Two-Wheeler Parts Catalogue

Modelled fitment as rules rather than a fixed list — 70 templates across 57 bike models generating roughly 3,060 accurate SKUs. Customers search by naming their bike, not a part number.
